For over 25 years we have been creating software to inspire children, raise standards and support teachers. We are looking for an outstanding classroom practitioner with experience across the primary age range to join our education team. Based at home, but with an expectation of visiting our office in Angel, London on a regular basis, you will be responsible for creating digital activities and lesson plans for our current software and beyond.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Creation of activities and resources for our range of products.
- Contribute to the development of future tools and resources.
- Working closely with the company's Sales, Marketing, Graphics & Product teams; enabling them to meet their commercial objectives.
- Undertake continuous analysis of the competitive environment and consumer trends.
- Writing lesson plans for schemes of work.
- Writing supporting documents for our range of products.
- Uploading of resources to various platforms.
- Assisting in the launch of new products by getting practitioner feedback and input.
- Attend conferences and exhibitions where appropriate to promote 2Simple and its products.
- Carry out other actions as requested by company management.

JOB SKILLS:

- Recent experience of teaching in a primary classroom (ideally 3 years or more).
- QTS or equivalent.
- Highly literate and numerate.
